

Chikungunya is a disease transmitted by the bite of Aedes aegypti and Aedes albopictus mosquitoes.

Main signs and symptoms:

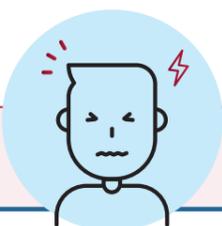

high fever, which can last up to 7 days

joint pain

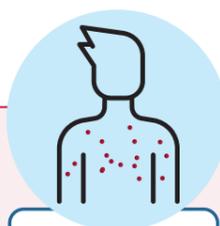

Other common clinical manifestations are:

headache

itching rash

muscle pain

What should you do?

Seek medical attention.

Drink enough fluids.

It is recommended to drink oral rehydration solution.

Do not self-medicate.

If you are breastfeeding, continue to do so.

MORE INFO

PAHO

Pan American Health Organization World Health Organization